BOY WITH A DESIRE TO STEAL

It is the general belief of the police that Joe Eastman, erstwhile ward of the juvenile court and at present incarcerated in the city prison on a charge of petty larceny, is afflicted with acute kleptomania and that he cannot resist appropriating the property of others.

Eastman, who is but seventeen years old, yet, with the assistance of another youth of about the same age, entered the store room of a Japanese rooming house on Lincoln avenue, Tuesday night, and stole nearly $100 worth of clothing from a trunk. This theft alone, however, would not give the police grounds for diagnosing it as a case of kleptomania. The conclusion is based on the fact that, yesterday morning, when the prisoners were aroused for their rations, one of them had lost his trousers. He had gone to sleep with them under his head as a pillow and awoke to find them gone. Clad only in a shirt, he had searched every cell and inquired of every prisoner and all without even a clue to the lost pants.

When the latter was informed of the loss, an officer was sent into the prison to make an investigation. Each prisoner was closely questioned and each in turn denied any knowledge of the trousers' whereabouts.

While young Eastman was making his denial, the interrogators noticed that the boy appeared to be unusually robust and stuffy about the legs and hips. He was ordered to take off his trousers and beneath them were found the missing pair of pants. The youth had stolen them from the sleeping prisoner and donned them and then pulled on his own.

As it is thought by the juvenile court that Eastman is incorrigible, it is not likely that Judge V. C. Gunnell will take charge of the present case, but will allow it to be heard in the police and district courts.

BAMBERGER WORKING ON LINCOLN

The Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company this morning put a force of men to work finishing the roadbed on the south side of the intersection of Twenty-fifth street, on Lincoln avenue. The foreman of the work stated that the concreting of the road from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth streets, on Lincoln avenue, would be begun the early part of next week and that the work would be prosecuted until finished. The roadway has been opened for the last time, so far as the company says, to the inability of the company to get material needed for the construction of the roadbed.

SOCIETY INSURANCE AGENT IS SUED

From the Somerville Journal we clip the following account of the marriage of O. A. Parnley of Ogden to Miss Florence Fenderson Hanscom, of Somerville, Mass.:

"An attractive autumn wedding took place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Frederick A. Hanscom, 26 Madison street, when his daughter, Miss Florence Fenderson Hanscom was united in marriage to Orasmus Alvin Parnley, of Ogden, Utah. Rev William Bradley Whitney, of the Union-Square Baptist church, performed the ceremony.

"The bride was attired in white tulle, made with imported trimmings, and her veil was caught with an amethyst pin set with pearls, which was a gift of the groom. She carried bride's roses.

"Mrs. Walter Henderson of Ogden, Utah, was matron of honor, and wore blue silk. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Albert E. Lovell was best man, and the ushers were: Everett A. Kramer, Warren K. Hanson, both of Somerville, and Fred A. Kendall, of Manchester. A reception was held from 8:30 to 10 o'clock, when many friends tendered congratulations. The house decorations consisted of autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums. Guests were present from Ogden, Utah, Montclair, N. J., and Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Hicks served the collation.

"Mr. and Mrs. Parnley will spend their honeymoon of two weeks in New York and Washington, and after November 15 will be at home in Ogden, Utah, where they will reside."

THOMAS FULTON.

N. Clyde Fulton of Ogden and Miss Grace Thomas, of Spanish Fork, were united in marriage at Lehi on Wednesday afternoon. The bride and groom returned to Spanish Fork in the evening where a bountiful wedding supper was had at the Thomas home. Close friends and relatives only being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton were the recipients of many beautiful and useful wedding gifts, together with hearty congratulations and best wishes for future happiness and prosperity.

AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

A splendid house greeted Mrs. John Reed at the Congregational church, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Reed gave a most interesting program showing great versatility in her selections, perhaps the negro dialect readings being the most enthusiastically received. Needless to say she carried her audience with her from laughter to tears as she well.

Mrs. Reed was assisted by local musicians, who added pleasing variety to the evening's entertainment. Those assisting were: Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Dalrymple, the Misses Rosalie and Bertha Laird and Miss Biddle.

Mrs. Geo. Franks of St. Louis spent a couple of days in Ogden, en route to Eureka, Utah, as the guest of Mrs. A. C. Smith. Mrs. Franks left on Wednesday morning.

Miss Beatrice Hamill of Sub-station, No. 1, is spending a short vacation in Wells, Nevada.

Geo. Lewis and wife left for Denver Wednesday en route to Omaha. They will be gone about six weeks.

Mrs. J. H. Howe of Cache valley was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Douglas, for one week.

Miss Eva Cooper and Miss Myrtle Gibbons have returned from a short visit in Salt Lake.

Mrs. Harold Peery has been visiting in Salt Lake during the week, as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Joseph Nibley.

REMINDER OF THE AZUSA WRECK

The damage cases of A. L. Stone, administrator for the estate of Benjamin F. Eccles, deceased, and also administrator in like matter of the estate of Walter M. Constock, deceased, against the Union Pacific Railroad company, were dismissed in the district court this morning on motion of Abbott Maginniss.

These cases have hardened the court calendar for a long time, they having been once tried, sent to the supreme court and remanded back to the district court for new trial, after which many continuances have been had for one cause or another. They were set for trial today, but the attorney for the plaintiff stated that the plaintiff was not ready for trial, due to the illness of W. L. Maginniss, leading counsel in the case, and the absence from the city of the next leading counsel, James H. DeVine.

The judge promptly denied the motion for continuance, his honor stating to the attorney that the cases had been on the calendar so long and had been continued so many times, and that they must be tried at this time, or dismissed. The court further stated that the motion for continuance was unavailing and that the plaintiff would have to proceed to trial. Upon the court's denial of the motion for a continuance, Attorney Maginniss moved that the cases be dismissed without prejudice. It was so ordered.

The calling of these two cases brings to memory the Azusa wreck on the Union Pacific railroad in Wyoming, in the year 1903, when twelve persons lost their lives. Suits were brought against the company for various sums, ranging from $10,000 to $20,000, some of the plaintiffs getting judgments in lesser sums, others losing their cases. The two cases called this morning involved the claim for damages in the sum of $20,000, the jury in the lower court rendering a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $5,000 each. An appeal was taken to the supreme court by the railroad company and the cases were sent back to the district court for a rehearing.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE SCORED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Defending the south from the charge of having reduced its great mass of laboring men to a condition of slavery, one step from penance, Attorney General Garber of Alabama today in the supreme court of the United States made a spirited attack upon the federal department of justice.

Attorney General Garber was defending the constitutionality of so-called labor contract laws of Alabama. The validity of the law had arisen in an appeal of Alonzo Bailey, a negro, from his conviction of a misdemeanor under that law. He was charged with making a service contract with intent to defraud, one step from penance, receiving advance money and then breaking the contract.

The department of justice had been permitted to file a brief and to participate in the argument of the case as a "friend of the court." Mr. Garber expressed surprise that the department of justice should have taken the quiver of Attorney General Wickersham and Assistant Attorney General Harr should have been drawn without the case rather than from facts within it.

Mr. Garber demanded what relevancy to the case at bar had report taken from the files of the department of justice on alleged practices in the state of Louisiana. Assistant Attorney General Harr expressed a willingness to have the case tried on the facts in the record and then proceeded to make an argument to show how Bailey had been denied his rights under the federal constitution.

Dr. Wilson has been connected with Princeton for 20 years and was made president in 1902. President Pro Tempore Stewart has been a member of the board since April of 1888.

Dix, Democratic candidate for governor, of being one of the directors in a company which aided in forming a "complete scheme to accomplish the stifling of commerce," a trust against which he quoted the strictures of a judge, now a justice of the United States supreme court.

From the same platform Bourke Cockran, formerly a Democratic leader, announced that this fall he would vote the Republican ticket.

HAMILTON, MONTANA, HAS A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 21.—Fire, which broke out in the basement of the Valley Mercantile company's store at Hamilton, and which for a time threatened the entire business district of that city, damaged the stock and building to the extent of about $125,000 before it was under control. An urgent call was sent to Missoula for aid and a strong fire fighting force with special equipment was dispatched from here at 9:30 a. m. The fire is supposed to have started through a bad fire-fitting in the basement boiler-room, the flame immediately communicating with the goods in the stock room.

The building and stock is owned by the estate of the late Marcus Daly.

LYCEUM IS SOON TO OPEN

David Maule stated this morning that the Lyceum theatre building at Grant and Twenty-fifth street, will be ready to turn over to the lessees within the next ten days, and that the show business there may be started at the convenience of the men who have it in hand.

It is a handsome little show house and no means have been spared to make it modern in every particular.

The Maule business block, near the corner of Lincoln avenue and Twenty-fifth street, will be completed within the next thirty days, and business will be operated in the place immediately after that time.

These two buildings are creditable structures and they add much to the beauty and business significance of the section in which they have been erected.
